

Let's Register to Vote

Who can vote

Elegibility

Only United States citizens who are 18 years old can vote on Election Day.

Citizens of any county in the state who are not serving a felony conviction, and who have not been declared mentally incapacitated by a judge have the right to vote.

NOTES: If YOU ARE NOT a United States citizen, registering to vote or voting in the federal elections is considered a MAJOR CRIME.

Who can vote?

You only need to register once unless you change your address, name or marital status.

If you have not participated in last 3 years it is likely that you were removed from the voting patron and will have to register.

Each election has a deadline for registering new voters or making any other changes.
